QUEST

Professor Geoff Baker is Head of the School of Education at the University of Bolton. Prior to this he held headships of a primary and secondary school in Norfolk and was the Executive Headteacher of a large secondary school and two nurseries in Wigan. Under Geoff's leadership all the schools achieved substantively record outcomes, improved Ofsted judgements and all were oversubscribed. Geoff was a National Leader of Education during this period and supported schools in challenging circumstances and he is also an Ofsted Inspector. Geoff has published widely in the fields of history, pedagogy and educational leadership. He has held a variety of international fellowships including a Winston Churchill Fellowship which saw him visit schools in Finland and Hong Kong to look at communities of practice and approaches to teacher development. Geoff is a qualified SENCO and believes passionately in inclusion..
